

Intersections Wood Collaborative
Wood Symposium 2026

A remarkable celebration of wood will take place this October in and around Owen Sound at Grey Roots Museum, Harmony Arts Centre, Grey Gallery, and Intersections Wood Collaborative. With A FULL WEEKEND of presentations, exhibitions, demonstrations, international speakers, vendor displays, evening programming, pre-and post hands-on workshops, and so much more, Wood Symposium 2026 will connect and inspire beginner to experienced woodworkers and woodturners.

Symposium sessions will cover specific woodworking and woodturning techniques, design and form development, historical and contemporary perspectives, sustainable forestry and woodlot management, and more. Woodworkers, artists, educators, arborists, and thought leaders are invited to submit proposals for Wood Symposium 2026 lectures, demonstrations, panel discussions, and workshops before April 30, 2026 at symposium@intersectionswoodcollaborative.org.

Organizations and vendors of woodworking and woodturning tools, wood species and specialty lumber, books and instructional materials, and other products and services are invited to apply to Wood Symposium 2026 before April 30, 2026 for more information at symposium@intersectionswoodcollaborative.org.

Registration to attend Wood Symposium 2026 will open soon. Get more information at symposium@intersectionswoodcollaborative.org.

Intersections Wood Collaborative is a not-for-profit woodworking studio which continues to honour the legacy and vision of internationally renowned visionary artist Stephen Hogbin (1942-2022) by providing classes for all ages, lectures, mentorship, demonstrations, and more for woodworkers.
